

Careers in Public Health

Our graduates have found careers in:	with employers including:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Health Policy • Epidemiology • Health Promotion • Community Development • Health Program Evaluation • Health Technology Assessment • Primary Health Care and related fields 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Commonwealth, State & Local Government funded research institutes • Community organisations • Non-government health organisations • Divisions of General Practice • Pharmaceutical Companies and government regulators

Pathways to Careers in Public Health

The University runs several career advice activities, which you can find out about on its web site at <http://www.adelaide.edu.au/student/careers/>

A number of public health graduates have been accepted for the graduate entry programs of either the State or the Commonwealth governments. See Graduate Careers Australia <http://www.graduatecareers.com.au/>

Australian Government Department of Health and Ageing: Graduate Program http://www.health.gov.au/internet/main/publishing.nsf/Content/health-graduate-grad_about.htm

SA Government Graduate Register <http://www.graduate.sa.gov.au/>

Department of Health, South Australia: Job Search http://210.247.153.222/job_search.aspx

The Public Health Association of Australia runs job advertisements on a regular basis. You can join as a student for a reduced fee. <http://www.phaa.net.au/>

The following may be of interest, but you should exercise the usual caution as with any commercial internet site: <http://www.hacjobs.com.au>

A limited number of vacation scholarships are available from the University of Adelaide to undertake a focussed research project under supervision, usually after completing Level 2 of the BHLthSc.